Vintage Notes

Sometimes you just want to pepper up a piece of meat and throw it on the fire. These kinds of feasts call for something other than our flagship Pinots. That's why we created Marty, a Cab Franc forward Bordeaux-style blend. It has the balance and acid you have come to expect from winemaker Matt Berson, but it doesn't shirk away from deep fruit and spicy tannins. This is something skewing a little bolder without sacrificing complexity and nuance.

Who is Marty? Marty is The Behemoth, an ancient demon who was famously mentioned in the Old Testament. He lived east of the Garden of Eden and fed heartily on the tender woodland creatures. His name has become synonymous with the oversized, but it doesn't capture the sound of his lovely singing voice which would carry throughout his forest home. Behemoth fought a battle to the mutual death with his nemesis Leviathan, who was also very large and lived in the ocean. Marty's legacy lives on in this bottle of wine.
